PART 3: Christ's Literal Ark, in Old Covenant Scriptures

PART 4: Christ's Literal San-gReal, in New Covenant Prophecy

PART 5: Christ's Literal Son, in New Testament Writings

PART 6: Christ's Literal Daughter, in Books by Paul

PART 7: Christ's Literal Wife, in Revelation by John

PART 0: Introduction to the Seven Literal Grail Truths

IMPORTANT: It is highly recommended that you read each part in order, beginning with this introduction (Part 0). Otherwise, you will miss important foundational information and background, etc.

A. The Introduction to the Introduction

Part 0 is the introduction, to the seven-part series about the literal holy grail truths (eight parts total, including this introduction). This series will be dealing with the most valuable discoveries, of all time!!! Additionally, this series will sort the fact from the fiction, like it has never been done before.

What, actually, is the holy grail? Is it a cup (from the last supper), a stone, a sword, or the ark of the covenant? Or perhaps, is it the wife of Christ—and/or their descendants (the bloodline)? Did He get married, to Mary Magdalene? Was she a virgin, or a harlot? The fictional and apocryphal accounts say that she was the lover or wife of Christ, but are they correct? And did they have a daughter, named Sarah? The answers, to all of these questions, are actually far more shocking, amazing, and beautiful—than any fictional writer could ever conjure up, or imagine; as the saying goes: “Truth is stranger than fiction!”

NOTE: Some use “Yeshua” (or “Yahshua”), and “Yahweh”; while “Jesus” and “Jehovah” are found in most Bible versions—including the KJV (probably the best-selling Bible version, of all time). KJV is the primary Bible, quoted in this grail series; so “Jesus” and “Jehovah” are used, in this series. If this topic interests you: please see the website for advanced biblical evidence, regarding the sacred name subject.

TECHNICAL NOTES (for entire series): To aid in rapid comprehension, underlines are used frequently; simply skim each paragraph, before and/or after reading it normally, and focus on all “EMPHASIZED” words (as well as any word or short phrase, “within quote marks”). Text coloring and highlighting have meanings (see the website); emphasis is normally underlines, italics, ALL CAPS, and bold (there are a few obvious exceptions, but bold is primarily reserved for quotes from God’s word). Bible verses are all from the KJV (unless otherwise noted). Bible commentaries quoted can be found on BibleHub.com; Strong’s numbers are used, after the number sign (#). To make further study easier, references are listed within the same paragraph (not pages away, like some articles and books). Any abnormal punctuation or grammar, within this article, is intended to improve reading and comprehension—especially if you understand the system used (see the website). For convenience, Wikipedia is frequently quoted (for many people, it's more accessible than libraries, books, encyclopedias, etc); also, most of the Wikipedia quotes, in this article, are common knowledge—and/or they have additional source documentation (in Wikipedia, or elsewhere).

D. Three Ark and Grail Movies Profit ~$1.5 BILLION!

The following is a list of profits, from three popular movies. The first one is about the ark of the covenant; the second one is about the holy grail artifact, and the third one is about the holy grail bloodline.

Raiders of the Lost Ark: budget, ~$18,000,000; gross, $389,925,971; profit, $371,000,000+
Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade: budget, ~$48,000,000; gross, $474,171,806; profit, $426,000,000+
The Da Vinci Code: budget, ~$125,000,000; gross, $760,006,945; profit, $635,000,000+ (<https://IMDb.com>)
Totals: budget, ~$191,000,000; gross, $1,624,104,722; profit, $1,432,000,000+ (not including misc costs)

The book by Dan Brown, also titled The Da Vinci Code, sold over 80 million copies; and it's listed in the top best-selling books, of all time (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/List_of_best-selling_books). Other related works include, The Holy Blood and the Holy Grail (a popular book by Baigent, Leigh, and Lincoln); and a popular movie, The Last Temptation of Christ; etc.

There are more than 2¼ billion Christians, worldwide; this exceeds one quarter of the entire world population! Some people might prefer the dramatized fictional, or semi-fictional accounts (such as the movies and books, mentioned above); but many people—especially Christians—will surely find even greater interest in a biblically based, and factual account, of these same subjects (the ark, the holy grail, the marriage of Christ, His offspring, etc). And that is exactly what this grail series is all about.

E. The Holy Grail: Artifact, or Bloodline?

Wikipedia: “Various traditions describe the Holy Grail as a cup, dish, or stone with miraculous healing powers ...” (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Holy_Grail).

Wikipedia: “Excalibur is the mythical sword of King Arthur [from the holy grail legends] that may be attributed with magical powers or associated with the rightful sovereignty of Britain. Traditionally, the sword in the stone that is the proof of Arthur’s lineage and the sword given him by a Lady of the Lake are not the same weapon ...” (<https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Excalibur>).

Wikipedia: “... the Holy Grail also called Sangreal, derived from either the Spanish ‘San Greal’ (the Holy Grail), or the French ‘Sang real’ (royal blood).” (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Robert_Langdon).

Wikipedia: “In the 15th century, English writer John Hardyng invented a fanciful new etymology for Old French san-graal (or san-gréal), meaning ‘Holy Grail’, by parsing [dividing] it as sang réal, meaning ‘royal blood’. ... sang real refers to the Jesus bloodline.” (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Holy_Grail).

So the holy grail—as an inanimate artifact—is considered to be a stone, sword, cup, chalice, bowl, dish, and/or platter, etc. The ark of the covenant is frequently associated with the grail, though it's not usually called the holy grail; however, some people believe that the ark is indeed the actual holy grail. Others believe that the holy grail is Mary Magdalene’s womb (a symbolic cup), and/or the offspring of Jesus (bloodline). The grail legends about King Arthur, also deal with his “lineage” (bloodline).

Then who is right: those who say that the holy grail is an artifact, or those who claim that it is a bloodline? Or maybe none of them are right, because the grail stories are all just fantasy and fairy tales (see F-1). God foresaw the various grail myths; and He preempted them all, by creating His own grail romances—which are better than any fiction could ever be! And He wrote them, not merely in a book (the Bible): He also wrote them right into historical factual reality.

Furthermore, God was not so limited as to think that the Holy Grail could be only one thing (artifact, OR bloodline). So He designed His grails to be His literal wife, AND His literal offspring, AND the ark, AND a very special artifact, etc (the seven literal grail truths, detailed in this series).

F. Artifact and Bloodline Objections Answered

This section gives clear answers, to the three most common objections that are used—in attempts to refute the holy grail artifact, and/or the holy grail bloodline. Of course, there are certainly more than three objections; but with these three removed, it will be easy to see the truth—for anyone who wants to see the truth (please pray, for God to guide you). And for those who have strong motivations not to see the truth: no amount of answered objections, however clear, will ever convince those who refuse to be convinced.

F-1. The Holy Grail Legends Are All Fiction

For anyone who accepts the Bible as true history, the ark is certainly NOT just fiction; the word “ark” is in the Bible more than 200 times—nearly 200 of which refer to the ark of the covenant. So if indeed the ark is the holy grail, or closely related to it, then certainly this objection is patently false! The exact phrase “holy grail” is not found in the Bible (KJV); but all of the concepts are clearly there—not only the artifact, but also Christ’s bride and His bloodline, etc.

Most words have some degree of latitude, in their meaning; and sometimes, informal usage does not conform to stricter definitions. For example, the word “legend” is often understood to mean fictional mythology; however, more accurately, the word “legend” refers to unverified historical fact—which, over a long period of time, has become mingled with various imaginary ideas.

And this is exactly what we will find in this grail series: the Bible records historical facts, which are similar to the various grail legends—sometimes shockingly similar. Over the centuries, however, the grail romances, books, and movies have accumulated a lot of fiction. Especially for those who believe that the Bible is God’s word: this is THE reliable source, for information that can distinguish fact from fiction. The Bible itself has stunning documentation, and clarity, about the grail legends (artifact and bloodline).

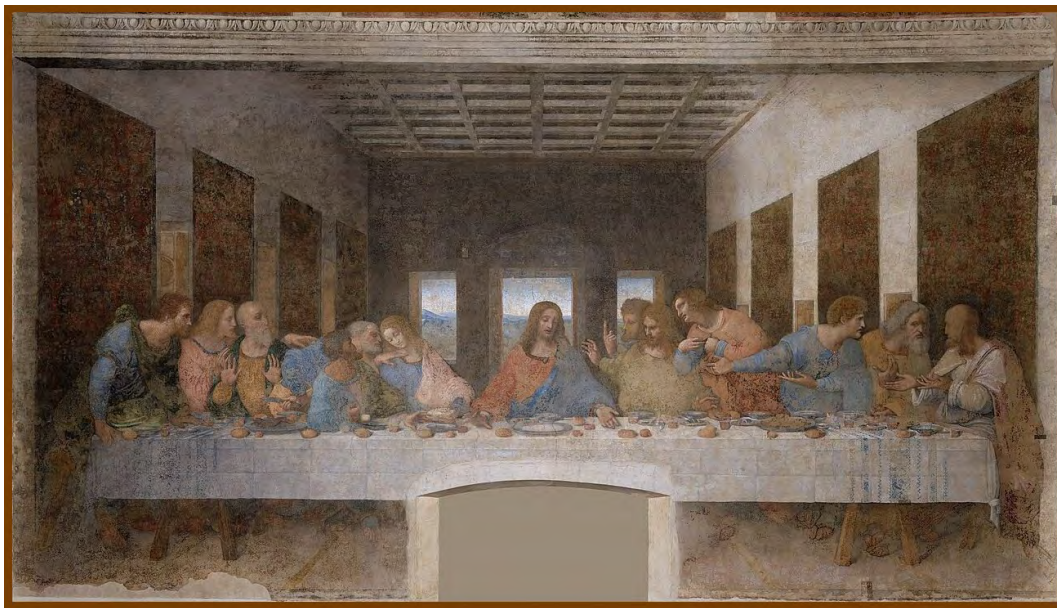

F-2. The Priory of Sion Was a Hoax

Wikipedia: “... Plantard further claimed the Priory of Sion was engaged in a centuries-long benevolent conspiracy to install a secret bloodline of the Merovingian dynasty on the thrones of France and the rest of Europe. To Plantard’s surprise, all of his claims were fused with the notion of a Jesus bloodline and popularized by the authors of the 1982 speculative nonfiction book The Holy Blood and the Holy Grail, whose conclusions would later be borrowed by Dan Brown for his 2003 mystery thriller novel The Da Vinci Code. ... Although Lincoln, Baigent and Leigh [authors of the above 1982 book, The Holy Blood and the Holy Grail] remain convinced that the pre-1956 history of the Priory of Sion is true, they confess to the possibility that all of Plantard’s claims about a post-1956 Priory of Sion were part of an elaborate hoax ...” (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Priory_of_Sion).

For all practical purposes, it doesn’t matter whether the Priory of Sion was true, partly true, a hoax, or a double hoax (the claim of it being a hoax was itself a hoax, designed to stop the truth). In ALL cases: it doesn’t change the reality of the fact that Jesus literally got married, and had offspring, etc.

Leonardo da Vinci was very talented, in several areas. His paintings are masterpieces of artwork, essentially unrivaled; yet those paintings do not necessarily depict reliable facts. For those who think that he was a Grand Master (Priory of Sion)—and/or that he coded the Magdalene grail concept, into his “Last Supper” painting—he was not a biblical prophet; so his beliefs, about the holy grail, could’ve been wrong.

It does appear, however, that Leonardo did have Magdalene in mind, when he painted “The Last Supper”; and this can be seen, in more than one way. Clearly, all agree, that the person on Christ’s right side has a feminine appearance; some say that this was common, in various last supper paintings of the time—but even if that’s true, it certainly doesn’t mean that Leonardo was not thinking of Magdalene. Also, John the disciple probably would’ve been depicted as leaning on Christ (see John 13:23-25; 19:26; 20:1,2; 21:7,20-24; etc); yet Leonardo painted Magdalene leaning far away from Jesus, as if to underscore that this person is not John. Finally, Jesus and Magdalene were painted in similar colors, but opposite (left to right); also, their arms touch where the colors are similar. It is probable that this represents the two as a romantic couple; and the opposite colors represent opposite genders (see the picture, below).

F-3a. The Bible Does NOT Say that Jesus Was Married

Actually, the Bible does say that Jesus was married; it is stated in several ways, and in several places (see F-3b). However, the most valuable truths are hidden (but designed by God to be found, and known by ALL, unlike false elite esoteric secrecy); therefore, almost everyone has missed it, until the right time—which is now (see Proverbs 2:1-6; Daniel 12:4-10; Matthew 10:26,27; 11:25; 13:10-17,44-46; Colossians 2:2,3; Revelation 10:4; etc).

Claim: Mary is never called the “wife of Jesus” (neither in the Bible, nor in the apocryphal gospels).

Answer: Christ was crucified, shortly after the wedding; so there wasn’t much time for the bride to be known publicly, as the “wife” of Jesus. Also, God intended this to be a hidden truth—so indeed, no verse says: “the wife of Jesus”; yet the biblical evidence for His marriage is unmistakably clear, once it’s found.

Claim: Jesus needed to be an example of celibacy, for those who don’t get married (and/or other reasons).

Answer: Jesus was indeed an example of celibacy, and moral purity—from His childhood, all the way up to the week of His death. But then Jesus DID get married; therefore, He was ALSO an example for those who DO get married—which includes billions of people! God was wise enough to plan things, so that Christ would be an example for BOTH types of people (the unmarried, and the married). Some say that Jesus was married at Cana, near the beginning of His ministry; but that marriage was actually a different couple, who walked with Jesus to Emmaus (see Luke 24:13-32; https://7GRAILS.world/7-symbolic/sis). The marriage of Jesus was at the end of His ministry, NOT the beginning (see I).

F-3b. Actually, the Bible DOES Say that Jesus Was Married

Claim: The idea that Jesus got married is based on inferences, from a couple of Gnostic texts (the gospels of Philip, and Mary); and even those texts don't explicitly say, that Jesus was married to anyone.

Answer: The very clear evidence, that Jesus got married, is indeed NOT found in the Gnostic texts (or similar ancient writings); instead, it is found in the Bible!!

Paul gave himself (not Jesus), as an example for the unmarried (a). Christ is the author of marriage, and He created procreation (b); it makes absolutely no sense, that Jesus never even experienced what He Himself created, blessed, honored, and pronounced “very good” (c). Why, oh why, would Jesus NOT get married? a - see 1 Corinthians 7; b - see John 1:1-3,14; etc; c - see Genesis 1:27,28,31; Proverbs 18:22; John 2:1,11; Hebrews 13:4; etc.

The best biblical evidence, that Jesus did indeed get married, is the Song of Songs (SOS); but it is so detailed, that it will take an entire part to cover it (see Part 1). The very next book, Isaiah, contains two different passages on this subject (see G). The book of Matthew also has two different passages, about Christ's marriage (see H & I). Finally, the last book of the Bible (Revelation) has a most amazing hidden prophecy, about the literal wife of Jesus; this will also take an entire part to cover (see Part 7).

If you think the Bible is a mere human compilation, please notice that God is in charge of the canon: which books were included, how many (OT and NT both agree, 66 total), and even the arrangement. For example, many think that SOS (aka Song of Solomon) doesn't even belong in the Bible (see Part 1); but without SOS: the best evidence, for Christ's literal wedding, would be completely missing.

Also, in the 66-book canon: SOS is immediately before Isaiah—which is the second-best evidence, in the Old Testament (OT), for the literal marriage of Christ; and these two books are beside each other, representing the two parties united in marriage (SOS focus is on the bride, while Isaiah focus is on the Messiah / groom). The passages in the New Testament (NT), are quite the opposite (furthest apart): Matthew is the first NT book, and Revelation is located last; this represents Jesus—who is the author of marriage, and the author of the Bible (see Matthew 7:24; 24:35; Revelation 1:1,16; 19:10; 22:16; etc).

In fact, Jesus calls Himself “the first and the last”—and it's even in this very same book, Revelation (1:11,17; 2:8; 22:13; see also the OT marriage book, Isaiah 41:4; 44:6; 48:12). For those interested: there is clear internal evidence, that Matthew was the first NT book written (not Mark); and Revelation was unquestionably the last NT book written. Additionally, amazing chronology alignments prove, with certainty, that Revelation was written in September of AD 96—which is a slam-dunk debunk, of full preterism (see Part 3).

G. The Married Messiah in Isaiah

No doubt, some will say that these Isaiah passages are referring to symbolic marriage: Christ is the groom, His church is the bride; and they are correct. However, there is a very little-known principle, of Bible interpretation; and it will be shown over and over and over, in this grail series. When sincere Bible students disagree, over whether a passage is literal or symbolic, usually the correct answer is: both!!

This principle is very valuable, in many cases; including biblical chronology, when people are trying to spiritualize away very clear chronological statements—such as 480 years (see 1 Kings 6:1). So you can pat them on the back, and tell them that they hit the nail on the head; yes, indeed, 480 years is certainly symbolic: but it is ALSO LITERAL!!!! And there goes the rug, right out from under the sneaky attempt to do away with the unmistakably clear—and historically correct—statements of biblical chronology. See the chronology grail studies: where all biblical events fit solidly, into every chronological statement in the entire Bible (as well as many other historical records, although some secular chronology is inaccurate).

Jesus taught spiritual lessons, through parables; but many don't realize that most of His parables, if not all, were also real factual events—including the ten virgins parable (see I). This means that spiritual lessons, in the Bible, usually have a literal application; and literal events, in the Bible, usually have a spiritual application (see Galatians 4:21-31; Matthew 17:1-13; Malachi 4:5,6; etc). Therefore, Jesus is indeed a symbolic groom, husband, and Father; but He is ALSO a literal husband, and Father, etc.

G-1. The Messiah Is a Literal Human “Father” (Isaiah 9:6)

Isaiah 9:6 ♦ “For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given ... and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace.”

Here is a well-known Messianic prophecy; and the words of this verse were even used, in the lyrics of a very popular song (Handel’s Messiah). The phrase “everlasting Father” might seem to be referring to Christ’s divinity—especially coming right after the phrase “mighty God” (notice, though, that it doesn’t say, “Almighty God”). But this actually shows God’s wisdom, in His ability to hide truth.

We know that Christ is NOT the Father, in the divine Godhead (unless you believe Sabellianism, which this series will totally refute); instead, He is always referred to as the Son! So the word “Father” here actually refers to the humanity of Jesus: He became a Father, and He will live forever—just like all righteous humans; therefore, He is the “everlasting Father” (see Daniel 12:2; Matthew 19:29; 25:46; Luke 18:30; John 3:16,36; 4:14; 5:24; 6:27,40,47; 12:50; Romans 6:22; Galatians 6:8; 1 Timothy 1:16; etc).

Should anyone play the “spiritual father” card—all we have to do, is point out the above principle: Jesus is BOTH a spiritual Father, AND a literal Father!! In fact, the context is primarily about the literal application. Notice that Isaiah 9:6 begins with the Messiah’s birth, when He became a literal “child” and a literal “son”! The verse ends with: “The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace”; He became a Father (got His wife pregnant), shortly before He died—and then last of all, especially through His death, He became the ultimate “Prince of Peace” (see Ephesians 2:13-17; Colossians 1:18-22; 2:13,14; etc).

G-2. “He Shall See His Seed” (Isaiah 53:10)

One of the clearest OT prophecies—about the suffering, death, and resurrection of the Messiah—is quoted below. Notice that the Messiah is rewarded, in several ways, for fulfilling His mission of suffering and death. And the very first reward mentioned is: “he shall see his seed”!

Isaiah 53:9-12 ♦ “And he made his grave with the wicked, and with the rich in his death ... Yet it pleased the LORD to bruise him; he hath put him to grief [suffering]: when thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin [His death, the sacrificed ‘Lamb of God’], he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days [after dying], and the pleasure of the LORD shall prosper in his hand. He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied: by his knowledge shall my righteous servant justify many; for he shall bear their iniquities. Therefore will I divide him a portion with the great, and he shall divide the spoil with the strong; because he hath poured out his soul unto death: and he was numbered with the transgressors; and he bare the sin of many, and made intercession for the transgressors.”

Oh, but that is referring to His spiritual seed—right?? Well, um ... yes; but, once again, it’s BOTH spiritual and literal!! Also, since the rewards are after His death and resurrection: in this context, it’s primarily referring to His literal seed. Jesus certainly saw His spiritual seed, long before any death or resurrection! And if indeed He got married, at the Cana wedding (which was near the beginning of His ministry): He would’ve had plenty of time, before the cross, to see the birth of His literal offspring; but instead, He impregnated His wife (with twins), just days before He died. Therefore, again, He saw the birth and life of His literal seed—after His death, resurrection, and ascension.

H. Triumphal Entry: Two Riders (Queen and King)

Almost all Christians know about “Palm Sunday”; this was when Jesus rode on a donkey, towards Jerusalem (Triumphal Entry). But nobody has noticed the carefully hidden truth; there were two donkeys, and two riders: Christ the King, and His fiancée queen! The same truth is also in SOS (see Part 1).

This greatly emphasizes how extremely bizarre it was, when Jesus started wailing in sorrow (see Luke 19:41)—right in the middle of a procession, which should’ve been an extremely happy occasion! And this also brings into sharp focus the devastation of the disciples, just a few days later, when their King was crucified. WHY the royal entry, with the queen and King, and the wedding, etc—only to turn into such a disaster, almost immediately?? But it was all part of God’s great plan; and it was all prophesied, in SOS.

Wikipedia: “The ceremonies and festivities accompanying a formal entry [see the picture, below] by a ruler or his/her representative into a city ... in Europe were known as the Royal Entry, Triumphal Entry, or Joyous Entry. ... Entry of [King] John II of France AND [Queen] Joan I of Auvergne into Paris after their coronation at Reims in 1350 ...” (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Royal_entry).

H-1. One Donkey, or Two?

The Bible is not the word of men, it is the word of God! And God designed His word to be like a puzzle; you have to search for the right pieces, and where they fit into the big picture (see Isaiah 28:7-14; 2 Samuel 16:1,2; etc). If you think that there is a contradiction: this is NOT proof of any error, in the Bible; instead, it is proof that you are trying to force the wrong puzzle piece, into the wrong place.

Matthew wrote about: “two possessed with devils” (8:28; see 20:30); but Luke and Mark mention only one demoniac, “a certain man [Luke]” (8:27; 5:2). Surely, this is a contradiction, say the skeptics. Has anyone ever considered, that these are puzzle pieces? Matthew is part of the picture (two); while Mark and Luke reveal a different puzzle piece (one). Is anyone good at math? Do the skeptics have a high-tech quantum computer, able to perform an extremely complex calculation—adding up the total number of demoniacs: two (mentioned in Matthew), plus one (mentioned in Mark & Luke), equals THREE!?!

Wait, what—three demoniacs??? Yes; and just like nearly everything else, there is a literal and a symbolic application. Who, then, is the third symbolic demoniac? It is YOU, dear reader; especially if you have unconquered demons—like the demon of doubt, tempting you to question the reliability of the Bible (because Matthew mentioned both the father and the son, yet the other accounts mentioned only the father). And Jesus can cast out your demons, if you ask Him, like He did with the biblical demoniacs.

The number of demoniacs was planned by God, as an example of the Triumphal Entry. The very same thing, is in the very same gospels, regarding the number of donkeys (and blind at Jericho); Matthew mentions two (a), while the other gospels mention one (b). Does this mean that there were three donkeys? Yes; however, maybe you are starting to catch on, one of them is symbolic. What does a symbolic donkey represent? The above picture (royal entry into Paris) has horses, which represent violent war; but Jesus had nothing to do with violent insurrection—no, He came on a donkey as the “Prince of Peace” (c). a - see 21:1-7; 20:30; b - see Mark 11:1-7; 10:46; Luke 19:29-36; 18:35; John 12:14,15; c - Isaiah 9:6; see 1 Kings 1:33; Zechariah 9:9,10; etc.

Wikipedia: “... donkeys were portrayed in Biblical works as symbols of service, suffering, peace and humility. ... [Donkeys] are seen in a positive light through the story of Jesus riding into Jerusalem on a donkey.” (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cultural_references_to_donkeys).

H-2. One Rider, or Two?

Zechariah 9:9 ♦ “... your King is coming to you. He is righteous and victorious, yet he is humble, [the queen] riding on a donkey— [and the King] riding on a donkey’s colt.” (NLT; Genesis 49:10-12; etc).

This is an OT prophecy, about the Triumphal Entry. Some say that the last two phrases are parallel, referring to only one donkey; however, we just saw that there were two literal donkeys. And if two donkeys, then why not two literal RIDERS?? In fact, the verb “riding” applies to riding the adult donkey, AND riding the young one—as correctly translated above, in the NLT! And we know who rode which donkey, because the gospels say that Jesus rode on the colt (see Mark 11:7; Luke 19:35; John 12:14,15). Some readers might even be ahead of the game, by now, wondering if there was a third symbolic rider? The answer is yes; see if you can figure out the meaning, of the symbolic rider.

Mark 11:1,4 ♦ “And when they come near to Jerusalem, to Bethphage, and Bethany [TWO cities], to the Mount of Olives, He sends forth TWO of his disciples ... And they went away, and found the colt tied at the door outside, by the TWO ways, and they loose it” (LSV).

So there were TWO cities, TWO disciples, TWO ways, TWO donkeys—perhaps, is there maybe the slightest chance, that maybe just maybe there were also TWO RIDERS?? Actually, once again, Matthew came through, revealing the fact that there were indeed two literal RIDERS (see H-3, next); just like he did with the two literal demoniacs, the two literal blind men, and the two literal donkeys.

H-3. Matthew’s Carefully Hidden Truth (Two Riders)

Matthew 21:2-7 ♦ “... ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them [two donkeys], and bring them [two donkeys] unto me. ... say, The Lord hath need of them [two donkeys]; and straightway he will send them [two donkeys]. ... And brought the ass, and the colt [two donkeys], and put on them [two donkeys] their clothes, and they set him [singular—but in italics (KJV, NKJV, LSV, etc)] thereon.”

Clearly, Matthew mentioned two donkeys; and clearly, Matthew said that the clothes were put on both donkeys—but WHY, if only one rider? Some have suggested that the disciples did this, because they weren’t sure which one Jesus was going to ride. REALLY?? And they didn’t even think to ask Him, when He was right there in front of them?!? Surely, it is far more logical, that they put clothes on both donkeys—because they knew that there were two riders!! Notice in the Paris entry picture (above), the two white royal horses are both covered; this is much like the two royal donkeys, with clothes on both.

Now notice the last phrase: "... and they set him thereon." In some translations, including KJV, the word "him" here is in italics; this means that the word is not actually in the Greek text (the translators supplied it). Several other translators rendered the phrase with the supplied singular first, and then the plural: "... and he [singular, but supplied] sat on them [plural]." (<https://biblehub.com/parallel/matthew/21-7.htm>).

Some say that this means: he (Jesus, singular) sat on them (clothes, plural). True, Jesus did sit on the clothes—so what? That's NOT the important meaning, nor does it fit the context; "them" is used half a dozen times, in context, ALL six referring to the two donkeys. It really should've been translated: and THEY (supplied plural) sat on THEM; in other words, they (queen and King) sat on them (two donkeys).

Yet the fact that Matthew left it somewhat ambiguous, in the Greek, is a dead giveaway: he was intentionally veiling a hidden truth (had he clearly written plural riders, it would've been too obvious). If you put the right puzzle pieces, in the right places, you see that the Bible is very accurate—even to the extent of singular versus plural (or left unstated, in some cases; especially hidden truths, like this case).

Several Bible commentaries have recognized the implication of two riders; but NOT understanding the hidden truth, they have concluded that Jesus rode both donkeys: "one after the other"—what?? WHY would Jesus be playing musical chairs (or musical donkeys), hopping from one donkey to another? Or trick riding, and straddling both at once, etc? Would such a circus clown act, have drawn attention to Jesus? Yes; but not the right kind of attention. Wouldn't the queen and King, riding on two donkeys, have drawn far more attention? Absolutely!! And a much better kind of attention, than a circus show. It would've also incited the unmitigated jealousy and hatred, of the existing rulers; so they killed Him, just a few days later (but it's rather unlikely, that they would've killed someone performing a circus clown act).

Scholars and skeptics alike, have all missed the hidden truth here ("Donkey-Gate"). Skeptics have even mocked the idea, with silly pictures of riding on two animals at once (see the examples, below); but GOD OUTSMARTED THE SKEPTICS, not the other way around (as with this, and ALL other cases). In fact, why do the skeptics complain about Matthew? He got it right: two donkeys, and two riders!!

H-4. Male and Female: Disciples, Donkeys, Clothes, and Riders

At this point, it should be relatively easy to put the last pieces in place—about the two donkeys, and the two riders. Jehovah carefully hid TWO genders, in four distinct categories: the two disciples, the two donkeys, the two types of clothes, and ultimately the two riders (King and queen).

The synoptic gospels specifically mention "two" disciples, in charge of the two donkeys (Matthew 21:1; Mark 11:1; Luke 19:29); one disciple was male (but not one of the 12 apostles), and the other was female. This female disciple was also one of the five wise virgins (see I-1); both of these two disciples are named, along with one foolish virgin, in the article about the SOS wedding (see Part 1).

It is clear in the original Greek: that the colt, which the male King rode on, was a male donkey; and the mother of the colt, which the FEMALE queen rode on, quite obviously was a FEMALE donkey (aka jenny / jennet). Additionally, the male disciple led the male donkey, and the FEMALE disciple led the FEMALE donkey (see Part 1). Finally, the men put their clothes on the male donkey, and the women put their clothes on the FEMALE donkey; this fact is stated specifically, in SOS (again, see Part 1 for details).

I. The Ten Virgins Parable, It's Time to Awake

Matthew 25:1-13 ♦ “Then shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet the bridegroom. And five of them were wise, and five were foolish. They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them: But the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps. While the bridegroom tarried, they all slumbered and slept. And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him. Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps. And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our lamps are gone out. But the wise answered, saying, Not so; lest there be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves. And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came [to the hall]; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage: and the door was shut. Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to us. But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, I know you not. Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh.”

I-1. Who Got Married, in the Ten Virgins Parable?

It's no coincidence that Matthew—the only gospel with two donkeys, and two riders—is also the only gospel, with the ten virgins parable. This is to show the simple fact that the queen and King (riding the donkeys) were the same ones who got married, in the ten virgins parable. Furthermore, the young virgin—who led the queen on the mother donkey—was one of the five wise (plus the “four” below).

Acts 21:8,9 ♦ “... Philip the evangelist ... Now this man had four virgin daughters who prophesied [so they were godly, wise virgins, not foolish virgins].” (NKJV; see 2:14-18; Psalm 45).

These four wise virgins are mentioned, in order to show that the ten virgins parable was more than just a spiritual lesson; it was also a literal historical event (like the other parables). The context, of Acts 21, is decades later; but these daughters may have chosen to remain unmarried, for most or all of their lives—and there is some historical support for this (see Pulpit Commentary on Acts 21:9). Also, the statement is made out of the blue, without any further explanation or details; therefore, once again, the main point is to show the connection, with the ten virgins parable (puzzle pieces).

SOS has the clearest evidence—not only that Jesus got married, but many other specific details; for example: the bride, the chronology, the location, and the virgins, etc. Ever since He told this parable, Christians have understood that Jesus is the groom; but everyone applied it symbolically, and missed the literal application. Jesus was the literal bridegroom (see Mark 2:18-20; John 3:29; etc). Once you realize this, it's easy to understand why He tarried until midnight: He wanted to create the spiritual lesson, and He had a time alignment purpose (for waiting until midnight). Also, Jesus was busy gathering guests (see Part 1).

I-2. Crying Wolf, Without the Credentials

Speaking of midnight: this is precisely the moral condition of the world, right now—exactly as the parable predicted. And this parable was designed in such a way, that this very message (about the literal wedding) is one and the same thing—as the cry that awakens the sleeping virgins (in the symbolic application). In other words, NOW is the time to wake up! “Behold, the bridegroom cometh ...”

Oh, but wait: people have been claiming the end of the world, and Jesus coming soon, for centuries. Yes, but even if someone cries wolf (false alarm) a hundred times—this doesn't mean that the real wolf will never come! This ten virgins parable even predicts a long delay; then a wake-up call, just before Jesus returns (see Matthew 25:5,6,19). Also, prior to this grail series, nobody had the biblical credentials: Christ's literal marriage (in this parable, and in SOS); plus His true birth date (see K-1), and so much more.

Wikipedia: “A 2010 survey showed that about 40% of Americans believe that Jesus is likely to return by 2050.” (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Second_Coming).

At the time of Christ's first advent: many Jews recognized that the time was right, for the Messiah to come. Even so, many Christians today believe that the time is right, for the Messiah's second coming (see the above quote). Recently, there has been a growing number of videos, books, and sermons—all giving the message that Jesus is about to come! Especially after this grail series, the 40% (quoted above) will surely be much higher (and the 2050 year, will be a decade or two sooner).

I-3. Two Thousand Years Later, Right on Time

This is published at 9:36, 3-6-25; Jesus began His public ministry, nearly 2,000 years ago. There is prophecy that Jesus will return, after “two days” or 2,000 years (see 2 Peter 3:8); and then the resurrection is on the “third day”—the millennium (Hosea 6:1-3; see Luke 13:31-35). Why was this truth, about the ten virgins parable, NOT understood for 2,000 years? Because God knew and guided the best timing: for this truth to be understood, and published. And if you add about 4,000 years, from the OT, the total is around 6,000.

Wikipedia: “The Millennial day theory ... a theory in Christian eschatology in which the Second Coming of Christ will occur 6,000 years after the creation of mankind, followed by 1,000 years [the millennium, of Revelation 20] ... The view takes the stance that each millennium is actually a day according to God (as found in Psalm 90:4 and 2 Peter 3:8 [1 day represents 1,000 years]), and that eventually at the end of the 6,000 years since the creation, Jesus will return. ... The main support for this view is found in ... the original Sabbath system ...” (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Millennial_Day_Theory).

In the chronology grail studies (see K-1): there are exact dates (year, month, and day)—with far more evidence and clarity, than ever before—for the creation, flood, and exodus, etc (as well as birth and/or death dates, for many of the OT characters). Bottom line: the Bible has clear and unbroken chronology, from Adam until today; and this removes all uncertainty, regarding the total of about 6,000 years.

And there are other ways, to show the 4,000 plus 2,000 years. The OT festival system was designed by God, to illustrate the major events related to the first and second advents; the spring festivals illustrate His first advent (Passover, Pentecost), and the fall festivals illustrate His second advent (see Leviticus 23; etc). There were about 1,500 years: from when God gave the festival system, until the first advent (spring festivals); then another 2,000 years, until the second advent, is shown by the four-month gap between the spring and fall festivals (6,000 years / 12 months in a year = 500 years per month, x 4 months = 2,000).

And there is a 3,000-year prophecy, starting when Solomon was a youth (~980 BC); this one is backed up by three amazing alignments (see Part 1, D-1 & 4n). Also, there are some time prophecies in Daniel and Revelation (1260, 1290, 1335, etc). Preterism and futurism claim that they refer to literal days, while historicism says that they are symbolic—and each day represents a year (see Revelation 11:2,3,9,11; 12:6,14; 13:5). Does anyone remember the right answer? Yes, the answer is: they are BOTH literal and symbolic!! And there are several hidden “Easter egg” verifications, for the start and end of these time prophecies—some of which are more than a thousand years long! And there goes, out the window, the false idea that Christ's second coming would be in the first century (see I-4). Also, with or without any time prophecies, the following Daniel passage clearly points to our time (certainly NOT the first century).

Daniel 12:4,9,10 ♦ “But thou, O Daniel, shut up the words, and seal the book, even to the time of the end: many shall run to and fro [world travel, etc], and knowledge shall be increased. ... And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are closed up and sealed till the time of the end. ... the wicked shall do wickedly: and none NONE of the wicked shall understand; but the wise shall understand.”

We are indeed living in a time, when knowledge is rapidly increasing—faster than at any time in history! And this knowledge is not merely secular science, and technologies, etc; it is also referring to rapidly advancing knowledge, of the hidden (sealed) subjects in the Bible. When that happens, and it has, then we may know that the “time of the end” is here; and Jesus is certainly coming, very soon!!

As a matter of fact: this year (2025) is the perfect year, for the start of this message (the wake-up call, in the ten virgins parable, etc); this is because 2025 is the 70th Jubilee (according to the original and biblical Jubilee system). Additionally, 2025 is a man-made Jubilee (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/2025_Jubilee).

The Bible doesn't directly say that the end would come, at the 70th Jubilee (490 sabbaticals); yet 70 is 10 times 7—which is the most important number, in the Bible (a)! Also, 70 itself is important (b). The math, for the biblical Jubilee, is actually rather simple: $49 \times 70 = 3430$; minus 2025 (the current year) = 1405. This calculation, alone, is accurate within plus or minus one year; finer details, to get the exact year, include: understanding the missing year zero (between BC and AD), and when the Jubilee started (in the spring, or in the fall). a - see Genesis to Revelation; b - see Psalm 90:10-12; Jeremiah 25:1-38; 29:10-14; Daniel 9:2,24; etc.

The Jubilee cycle did not start, with the exodus—because Israel owned no land, during the 40 years in the wilderness (see Leviticus 25:1-55; etc); so the cycle started, when Israel entered the promised land (see Joshua 4:19; 5:10-12). The 480 years is symbolic and literal (see G-0); so this guarantees an early date, for the exodus—and 1446 BC is already widely accepted, for the early exodus date. So 40 years later, the Jubilee cycle began about 1406 BC (plus or minus a year); compare the above: $49 \times 70 = 3430 - 2025 = 1405 \text{ BC}$.

I-4. Is Jesus Two Thousand Years Late?

NOTE: Similar to skepticism, “full preterism” claims that Jesus said His second coming would be in the first century. This idea will be refuted, over and over again, in the grail series (see 2 Peter 3:1-18).

John 21:21-23 ♦ “Peter seeing him [John] saith to Jesus, Lord, and what shall this man do? Jesus saith unto him, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee? follow thou me. Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that disciple should not die: yet Jesus said NOT unto him, He shall not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?”

It is interesting that Jesus DID return to earth, more than once, in the first century. Jesus personally appeared to Paul, at Damascus (a); and to John, at Patmos (b). At that time, John also saw the glorious second coming of Jesus, in vision. Some question the statements in Revelation: “I come quickly” (c); but prophecy is often written from a future perspective—the time when major prophesied events, are being fulfilled (our time). It's careless to assume that the timing is always based, on the date when the statement was written. a - see Acts 9:1-8; 26:12-20; 27:22-25; 1 Corinthians 15:8; b - see Revelation 1:9-18; c - 3:11; 22:7,12,20; see 12:6,12; etc.

Matthew 10:23 ♦ “Ye shall not have ... [preached to] the cities of Israel, till the Son of man be come.”

As noted above, Jesus did come in the first century; and in this application, the word “Israel” refers to literal Israel. However, maybe it's starting to sink in: there is also a symbolic application, about spiritual Israel—preaching to the Gentiles, all over the entire planet (a). This has never yet happened; but with the help of modern rapid communication methods, it will soon be fulfilled. “And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come.” (b). a - see Romans 2:25-29; 9:6-8; 10:12; 11:11-26; 1 Corinthians 10:18; Galatians 3:28,29; etc; b - Matthew 24:14.

Matthew 16:28 ♦ “I can guarantee ... Some people who are standing here will not die until they see the Son of Man coming in his kingdom.” (GWT; see 12:28; Luke 9:27; 11:20; 16:16; 17:20-25; 2:26-29).

Does this verse mean that Jesus was supposed to come, about 2,000 years ago? This quote appears in all three of the synoptic gospels; and in all three cases, the Transfiguration (which was symbolic of His advent, and eternal kingdom) is recorded immediately after it (a). Notice it says that they would “not die until ...”; there were some present (Peter, James, and John)—who saw the Transfiguration, and died later, as Jesus said. But if Jesus was only talking about His second advent, then He would’ve said that they would never die at all—since everyone saved, in His eternal kingdom, will be immortal and never die (b). a - see Matthew 17:1-13; Mark 9:1-13; Luke 9:27-36; b - see Matthew 19:16; 25:46; John 3:15,16; 4:36; 6:51,54,58, 68; 8:52; 10:28; 11:26; 12:25; 17:2,3; 1 Corinthians 15:1-58; 1 Timothy 6:12,19; 2 Timothy 1:10; etc.

It’s also true, as usual, that this statement has more than one application. There were at least two people standing there, who would never die at any future time; so clearly they would not die, before the literal second coming—which was indeed mentioned, in the context (see Matthew 16:27,28; Mark 8:38; Luke 9:26). Moses and Elijah were present (see Matthew 16:14,28; 17:1-13); these two men were also at the Transfiguration, a few days later. Last but not least: the exact date chronology shows—with laser-focused accuracy—that Jesus was positively referring to His Transfiguration, AND referring to His second advent; furthermore, this chronology shows that His advent would be about 2,000 years later (<https://7GRAILS.world/7-symbolic/chr/>).

Matthew 24:34 ♦ “Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass, till all these things be fulfilled.”

Did Jesus say He would come again, before that generation died away? It is widely recognized, that this chapter has a dual application; the first was fulfilled in AD 70, about 40 years later, which indeed was within that current generation. The other application, at the end of time, refers to the generation who would see all the signs fulfilled, literally (not merely symbolic signs, such as in AD 70). It is “this” final generation, alive now, which would not pass—before the ultimate fulfillment, of the Olivet Discourse.

1 Thessalonians 4:15 ♦ “For this we say ... that WE which are alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord ...” (see 1:9 to 3:13; 5:1-23; Acts 1:6,7; 1 Corinthians 7:26-31; 15:51-58; 2 Corinthians 11:20-33; etc).

Paul used the word “we” (above), and he also warned of imminent persecution; so some thought that he expected to live, until the second coming. However, Paul himself rebuked this idea, in his next letter to the same church (see 2 Thessalonians 2:1-15). Paul merely used himself to represent the faithful (living at the end of time); this is a common literary device, used both in and out of the Bible. Critics go so far, as to claim that 2 Thessalonians was not even written by Paul—in order to bolster their false idea, that the apostles were wrong (about Christ’s return). As mentioned already, God arranged the canon: which books were included, how many (66), and even in what order (see Part 1); the primary reason why Jude was included in the Bible, is to prove this fact (for details on this, and much more about the canon, see Babel Skeptics).

There is NO biblical evidence, that the coming of Jesus—in power and glory—is two thousand years late; there is NO evidence that Jesus was a false prophet, who predicted His advent long ago. The critics may claim this; but they can only do so, by going through the Bible carelessly. Quite the opposite: the biblical evidence weighs very heavily, in favor of about 2,000 years between His two advents; and that time is right now! “Ready or not, here I come!!” NO amount of arguments, doubt, opposition, mockery, hatred, or violence, etc—can stop Jesus from coming, exactly when He decides to come (see Habakkuk 2:2-4; Hebrews 10:34-39). The question is NOT: will He come? No, the only question is: Are YOU ready??

Luke 21:27,28 ♦ “... the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory. And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh.”

J. Literal Grail Acronym: H.O.L.Y. G.R.A.I.L.S.

H	=	Hidden
O	=	Outstanding
L	=	Legendary
Y	=	Yonder
G	=	Goblet	(Greal)
R	=	Royal	(Real)
A	=	Ancient
I	=	Important
L	=	Lifeblood	(Sang)
S	=	Sacred	(San)

This acronym has ten points: all ten are designed to help distinguish the true literal holy grails, from all the fakes. There are countless counterfeit claims—especially regarding artifacts, which are supposedly the holy grail; so how can we distinguish the real, from all the fake ones?

J-1. Hidden, Outstanding, Legendary, Yonder

A true holy grail must be something that is (or was) hidden; it's something that many have searched for, and it is highly sought after, etc. Something may qualify under many of the other nine categories; but if it was not hidden, not searched for (and not found)—then it doesn't qualify.

Like the farmer, who is “out-standing in his field”: he stands out, clearly and distinctly, from his flat farm field around him (where he is out there, standing upright); and he is also excellent (outstanding), in his trade (his field). Any genuine holy grail will also stand out, as excellent and superior, to all the fakes; it will be unique, distinct, and different from all the traditional grail accounts.

In spite of some distinct differences: the true grails will also have some shocking similarities, to the traditional grail legends. Once again, legendary refers to historical fact—although unverified, and/or fact that is mingled with various imaginary ideas (see F-1).

Wikipedia: “The claims frequently describe Jesus as having married, often to Mary Magdalene, and as having descendants living in Europe, especially France [which is also a common location, for artifact grail legends] but also the UK.” (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Jesus_bloodline).

The above quote relates to both legendary and yonder (the last two, here in J-1). It is a historical fact that Jesus got married, and He also had offspring. But the fictional grail romances usually have false locations: such as France, and the UK, etc. The Bible gives no such locations—not for the artifact, or the ark, or the bloodline; these locations come strictly from sources, which are outside of the Bible.

It doesn't matter how hard you look for something; if you are looking in the wrong places, you will never find it. And that is exactly the case with the true grail artifact, the true ark, and the true bloodline: people have been looking in all the wrong places, for centuries; therefore, they have found nothing but counterfeits. If you want to find the real holy grails, you will need to look in another place—over yonder!

J-2. Goblet, Royal, Ancient, Important, Lifeblood, Sacred

The word “grail” (also spelled greal, graal) has been defined variously as a goblet, cup, chalice, bowl, dish, platter, etc. This can be literal, for the artifact; and symbolic, for Christ's bride (her womb).

Jesus Christ is the “King of kings”—so He is certainly as royal as anyone (Revelation 17:14; 19:16; see Matthew 2:2; 27:11,29,37; etc). This means that His family is also royal: His bride, His son, and His daughter, etc.

Any genuine literal holy grail, must go back at least to NT times. And the ark, for example, goes clear back to OT times. Anything, therefore, that is NOT ancient, fails to qualify as a true literal grail. Additionally, the word ancient has to do with time; and there is one specific calendar date, which is found in all seven of the literal grail truths (although some are anniversaries, not all in the same year). This fact, alone, is an extremely powerful method—to distinguish the genuine grails, from all the counterfeits.

It probably goes without saying: any genuine holy grail is certainly very important. It is valuable, intellectually and/or physically. This is exactly why people search for holy grails—literal or symbolic—because of their very high value.

In French, the word “sang” means blood. Speaking of value, Christ’s blood is of infinite value—especially His own lifeblood (but His children, the royal bloodline, are also very valuable). The Bible has many verses, about the “blood of Jesus” (1 Peter 1:2,19; 1 John 1:7; see Mark 14:22-24; John 6:53-56; Romans 3:24,25; 5:9; 1 Corinthians 10:16,17; 11:20-27; Ephesians 1:7; 2:13; Hebrews 9:12-14; 10:19; 13:12,20; Revelation 1:5; etc).

About 140 times, in the Bible, the word “sanctuary” appears; and it refers to a sacred location (often the wilderness tabernacle, or the temple). The first three letters, of sanctuary, are “san”—which means “holy” (san great means holy grail). So the truth, about any holy grail, must be found in sacred scripture (otherwise, it is fake). Furthermore, the last letter of this acronym (S), can be doubled or even tripled: Sacred, Scriptural, and Supernatural. None of the fake grails are genuinely holy (Sacred), or biblical (Scriptural), or miraculous (Supernatural); all of the true literal grails have all three—including miracles, such as the ark of the covenant (see Joshua 3:15-17; 4:18; 1 Samuel 5 & 6; 2 Samuel 6; etc).

K. Further Validation from Symbolic Grails

Wikipedia: “By analogy, any elusive object or goal of great significance may be perceived as a [symbolic] ‘holy grail’ by those seeking such [‘Holy Grail ... an object or goal that is sought after for its great significance’].” (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Holy_Grail; <https://www.merriam-webster.com/dictionary/Holy%20Grail>).

In addition to the literal grail series, there will be other articles—which will provide further support and documentation, for the validity of the literal grails. For example, chronology and geography studies, which document the exact dates and locations—of the major events leading up to, and culminating in, Christ’s literal wedding. These additional studies don’t fully qualify as literal grails (as defined in section J, above); yet they are hidden truths, of great significance, so they DO qualify as symbolic grails.

These literal and symbolic grail studies will defend the reality of Christ’s genealogy, virgin birth, life, marriage, death, and bodily resurrection (of His dead corpse)—like never before! The chronology, archaeology, science, and other details will show—beyond any reasonable dispute—that all these events are actual, factual, history. The Bible even predicts a time, when truth will be so irrefutably clear: that all arguments against it, will be silenced (see Proverbs 4:18,19; Isaiah 60:1-5; Daniel 12:4,9,10; Titus 1:9-11; Revelation 18:1; etc).

Romans 3:19 ♦ “Now we know that what things soever the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law: that every mouth may be stopped, and all the world may become guilty before God.”

K-1. The Holy Grail of Chronology

For many biblical events, the chronology could qualify as symbolic holy grails (important, hidden, searched, etc). Nevertheless, two or three events are usually considered primary: the birth, death, and resurrection of Jesus; and His birth date is the most valuable. It could be considered as an “ace up the sleeve”; it was planned by God, for our time—to prove that Jesus is the Messiah, and the Bible is true!

The most commonly observed date, for the birth of Christ, is December 25; some scholars do defend this traditional date, but many others question or reject its validity. Various alternate dates have also been proposed; for example, around September 12 (3 BC). This timing does have an interesting astronomy alignment (Virgo); and it also has a Jewish festival alignment (Trumpets, Rosh Hashanah).

The true date, however, has a much better astronomy alignment (which puts the focus on Jesus, rather than on Mary); and it also has a much better festival alignment (which perfectly fits the sequence flow, of type and antitype). The true date also includes the exact minute of birth; and this exact timing is mentioned repeatedly, in the Bible, so it's essentially irrefutable. Wait—doesn't birth take more than one minute? Yes; but God foresaw this objection, and provided the answer: when any part of the body comes out, that moment qualifies as the birth (see Genesis 38:27-30).

There are seven biblical alignment methods, for finding dates of important events: YES FAWN; Years, Evenings, Statements; Festivals, Astronomy, Weekdays, Numbers (<https://7GRAILS.world/7-symbolic/chr/>). Astronomy alignments should not be confused with astrology, and horror-scope (pun intended). In some cases, there are hidden “Easter eggs”—which serve to lock in a specific date, with stunning certainty (for example: the 1005 songs, see Part 1). Those who don't know and use all of these alignment methods, are not likely to get any date correct (maybe not even the right year, much less the exact month and day).

K-2. *ARCH*aeology Acronym: M.E.E.T. a.t. G.R.A.V.E.Y.A.R.D.S.

Just as the traditional date is wrong, for Christ's birth (not December 25): the traditional location is also wrong (it was not in a cave, but it was in Bethlehem). And in addition to publishing, for the first time ever, the correct birth date: the symbolic grail studies will also include the correct location, for His place of birth (as well as the dates and locations for other details, in the Nativity narrative).

This will include the city, from which the wise men came; and the exact day when they left, as well as the day when they arrived—even the route that they took! Plus, it will include what star they saw, and why it was named the star “of Jacob” (Numbers 24:17); it could've been named the star of Adam, Enoch, Noah, Abraham, Isaac, David, etc—or just plain a “star” (see Revelation 22:16). Why was it named, in Bible prophecy, the star of “JACOB”? The answer is stunning, and leaves no doubt about where the wise men came from (archaeology grail); it even answers the strange question, about the quantity of wise men.

Did Mary get pregnant the normal way, or was she still a virgin? Is the enrollment, mentioned by Luke, a mistake—or historically accurate? Why did Joseph and Mary need to go to Bethlehem? When did they flee to Egypt, and come back? When did Herod the Great die (not merely the year, but even the exact day)? All these questions—and many more—will be answered very clearly, in the grail studies.

Similar to the alignment methods, for chronology: there are sixteen methods, for *ARCH*aeology (to help find the true locations, of biblical events). The acronym stands for the following words: M = Marker, E = East, E = Elevation, T = Two (or Three); a = Access, t = Treasures; G = Graves (Ruins, Citizens), R = Resources, A = Audio, V = Views, E = Enemies, Y = Years, A = Artifacts (Relics), R = Read (History), D = Distance, S = Spirit. The italicized words are the four main categories, of *ARCH*aeological research and discovery. “Seventy percent of all archaeology is done in the library [research, history].” (Indiana Jones and The Last Crusade).

Further details, about these discovery methods, are included in the introduction to archaeology (a). Those who don't understand and use all these methods, are likely to accept some wrong sites (such as the traditional birthplace of Christ). About half, of the traditional sites in Israel, are incorrect—especially the ones in and near Jerusalem. There are several reasons for this; many locations were lost, when Christians fled Jerusalem (and it was demolished, shortly after, in AD 70). No, we can't trust heathens, Hadrian, or Helena—who made claims about various sites; the Bible is the reliable source for finding true sites, not any human: “... Helena was converted to Christianity by Constantine [who was not a godly man] ...” (b).

L. The Conclusion to the Introduction

Every subject, in these grail articles, can be documented with an abundance of additional evidence. It's impossible to build a palace, with nothing other than one nail; so please be patient, because sooner or later: extensive additional documentation will be published. Those who might have knee-jerk reactions, at the start—will probably have all of their questions and objections answered, by the end. For the latest questions, answers, studies, travel schedule, and updates, please check the website (<https://7GRAILS.world/>).

L-1. How to Be Ready: J.U.S.T.

Here is the most important question of all: Jesus is coming very soon, how can YOU be ready? And how soon, will He come? Without setting a day and hour, it can be said with great certainty: the second coming of Jesus will be somewhere between a few months, to a few years from now—but definitely NOT a few decades. The ten virgins parable clearly shows a very short time, to get ready: too short, for some.

Many people are expecting certain events to occur, and certain time prophecies to be fulfilled, before Jesus can come again; but beware, this is the very same mistake that many made, at His first coming (a). Some prophecies will NEVER be fulfilled, because they are conditional (b). a - see Matthew 17:3-13; 24:4,11,20-24,42-44; Mark 9:4-13; 13:18-20; Luke 12:35-46; 19:42-44; Romans 9:28; 1 Thessalonians 5:1-4; 2 Peter 3:10; Revelation 3:3; 12:9; 16:15; etc; b - see Isaiah 1:18-21; Jeremiah 18:1-23; Ezekiel 38 to 48; Jonah 1 to 4; Zechariah 6:15; 14:10-21; Hebrews 13:6; James 1:17; etc.

The following acronym is designed to remind you, of four simple steps—which is all that it takes to be ready: J.U.S.T. You can think of it in two ways: “just” means only this, nothing more; and “just” is also the root word of justice. So you “just” need to follow these four steps, in order to be “just” before God (in His eyes). Like the Ten Commandments, these are negative requirements; thou shalt NOT be ...

J = Jealous • U = Uninformed • S = Stubborn • T = Timid

Lucifer originally fell, because of pride over what he already had—and he also fell from jealousy, over what he did not have (a). So please don't be jealous over God blessing someone else, more than you (or whatever it is, that you might be jealous about). If you overcome the sin of jealousy, then God may give you something just as good or better—than the very thing that you wanted, but didn't have; and if you don't overcome jealousy, it will be a disaster for you: both in this life, and in your eternal destiny (b). a - see Isaiah 14:12-17; Ezekiel 28:11-19; Luke 10:18; Revelation 12:7-9; etc; b - see Daniel 6:1-28; 9:22,23; 10:11,19; 12:2,3,10; etc.

Hosea 4:6 ♦ “My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge [uninformed]: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee ...” (see Isaiah 56:10; Matthew 23:13,15; Luke 11:52; Romans 10:2,3; 11:25; 1 Corinthians 10:1; 12:1; 2 Corinthians 2:11; 1 Thessalonians 4:13; 2 Peter 3:2-9; etc).

If you choose to be willfully ignorant, God will not excuse you; and all those who censor God's word, or even attempt to censor it, will be subjects of His wrath (see the above verse, and the additional references). However, if you are unintentionally uninformed, and are eager to learn God's desires for you: then He will accept your sincerity, and lead you into greater light (see Luke 12:47,48; Acts 17:30,31).

Once you do find new information, and greater light (even if it doesn't fit your previous beliefs, and pet theories): don't be stubborn; simply accept the advanced light, with joy! Why not?? There is nothing that can possibly do you and others more good, than knowing and accepting the truth (see Psalm 119:1-176; Matthew 7:21-29; John 8:31-36; 13:17; 14:6; 17:17; 2 Thessalonians 2:11-13; etc).

Finally, do not be timid. Humility isn't the same thing as timidity; one is good, the other is bad. Godly men and women, down through the ages, have taken a bold stand for truth—sometimes, even at the cost of their own lives (see Genesis 4:1-11; Acts 7:53-60; 12:1-3; Revelation 2:10-13; 6:9-11; 17:6; 21:7,8; etc). So don't be afraid to believe the truth internally, live it externally, and also share it with others. Especially in our modern times, it's relatively easy to share things: both locally, and worldwide. In fact, God planned it to be this way. It is no coincidence, that the internet (and various other communication technologies) have just recently come into existence, within the last few decades. Jehovah has set the stage: for everyone to hear His final messages, within a rather short period of time—and that time is now!

Proverbs 4:18,19 ♦ “But the path of the JUST is as the shining light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day. The way of the wicked is as darkness: they know not at what they stumble.”

L-2. Who Discovered these Literal and Symbolic Grails?

There are countless people—over the centuries, and even the millennia—who have been involved, in helping to bring all these truths together. We are privileged to be living in a time, when all the puzzle pieces can finally be put into the right places; and the big picture can be completed (“the perfect day”). Therefore, no single person gets all the credit; and that's the way it should be: we should all be thankful for whatever contribution anyone has made, at any time, to the development of all Bible truths. Also, the primary purpose is to give God the glory; those who are out to glorify self, find either nothing or fakes.

But who is the author, of this grail series? So far, no major denomination has taught that Jesus got married; obviously, then, this series is not authored or sponsored by any prominent religious organization. A few people contribute, to these articles—but far more important than names, is the evidence; if it's clear and true: then it really doesn't matter whether AI wrote it (Artificial Intelligence), or a child, or whoever. Nevertheless, for those interested in names, please check the traveling group webpage (see L-3).

It should be rather quick and easy, to download and read the various grail articles; and this fact may leave a subconscious impression, that creating these articles was also rather quick and easy—but nothing could be further from the truth! Creating this material took decades of research, often staying up all night long; and sometimes exceeding 100 hours per week, of marathon studying. And in order to accomplish all this: high-paying jobs have been forfeited, to the tune of millions of dollars lost; plus, a large house and a business were sacrificed, worth at least half a million dollars.

Furthermore, there have been many trips to Israel, Jordan, and elsewhere—with unknown total costs for international flights, hostels, rental cars, gas, etc; plus, some of the searching was done, at a fairly high risk of life and limb. At one biblical site: there was an arrest at 1:50 AM, by soldiers armed with machine guns; and three interrogations, with fine-tooth comb searches of all the luggage. And last, but certainly not least: there was actual death, as a direct result of this work. So stay tuned for all the amazing details, about these and other true story adventures—even more dramatic, than all the fictional ark and holy grail accounts (such as Indiana Jones, etc); but the success has wildly exceeded all expectations!!! Also, please keep in mind the level of the sacrifices, that have gone into providing you with this material—especially when considering your level of support, for this work (whether prayers, financial, and/or sharing).

The Da Vinci Code: “The Holy Grail is arguably the most sought-after treasure in human history. ... You [the finder] will be the keeper of a truth that man has sought for centuries. You will be faced with the responsibility of revealing that truth to the world. The individual who does so will be revered by many and despised by many [a sad but very true statement, about human nature].” (Dan Brown; pages 164,294).

When it comes to the artifact holy grail: some of the fakes are made of precious metals and jewels, and/or they are ancient artifacts (with significant archaeological value). Nevertheless, all the hundreds of fake ones, combined, are NOT worth a drop in the bucket: compared to the value of the real thing! Yet it's not for sale; instead, the plan is to “give” it away (Matthew 10:42; Acts 20:35)—as the single most valuable gift, EVER (other than God-given immortality). However, if it were for sale—and some person or group could afford it: the value could easily be in the trillions of dollars!!! And this is not merely because of the past history, of this artifact; no, the ultimate value is in the future—of the literal holy grail artifact!

L-3. Traveling Music Group: Fairest Among WomeN

The name, for the 7GRAILS music group—“Fairest Among WomeN”—comes from the same book, which is about Christ’s literal wedding (SOS 1:8; 5:9; 6:1). This traveling group will perform live Christian music, and will also provide live biblical messages (especially about the literal grail, and symbolic grail subjects). The music will include originals, covers, and rewrites (covers, with original lyrics and/or harmonies mostly rewritten); in some of the songs, the lyrics are specifically about these advanced grail topics. For information about the musicians, and more, see the FAWN webpage (<https://7GRAILS.world/fawn/>).

The style of the songs could go by a new title: contempo-vary. This is a coined word, which comes from “contemporary” and “tempo” and “vary”; as the name indicates, often the tempo of the songs will dynamically speed up and slow down (rather than the steady, monotonous, and boring beats of so many pop and rock songs). Variable tempo, of course, isn’t new (and it’s called rubato); however, as with any music, it is the combination of elements that determines the genre. And the contempo-vary elements will include the following: rubato, and contemporary, with some classical, and/or gospel; plus the most unique element of all, the lyrical style (grail related, intellectually advanced, strong emotionally, and more).

Donations will go to cover music equipment, travel costs, venue rentals, production expenses, and a reasonable salary for the group. The goal (if there’s enough interest and support) is no entrance fee; all presentations and concerts will be free to the public, and supported by you. Also, nobody will be buying a luxury yacht, with your donations; if there are extra funds: they will go to help people be ready, for Christ’s soon return. If you’re in great poverty, just give whatever you can (two mites). For easy methods to donate, please see the following I. G.I.V.E. page: <https://7GRAILS.world/donate/>

The logo for 7GRAILS features the number '7' in black, followed by 'G' in yellow, 'R' in purple, 'A' in brown, 'I' in cyan, 'L' in red, and 'S' in white with a grey shadow.

L-4. Next: Christ’s Literal Wedding, in Song of Songs

Part 1, about the ten virgins parable in SOS, will be released in April (2025). Love is the greatest power in the universe; and unadulterated romantic love, is the strongest of all love relationships: God created it that way (see Genesis 2:24; Matthew 19:4-6; Mark 10:6-9; etc.). Even Jesus Himself, was strengthened to succeed on the cross—His most severe trial of all—through His romantic relationship, marriage, and twins. In fact, “the Lamb’s wife” (His literal wife), and newlywed bride, provided emotional support: by being physically present, while He was on the cross. Although this basic truth can easily be found, in the Bible: the amazing and best part, is probably the deepest hidden truth—in the whole Bible! The most valuable truths, in the Bible, are the ones that are the hardest to find; similar to literal treasures.

Isaiah 53:10,11 ♦ “... thou shalt make his soul an offering for sin [death], he shall see his seed, he shall prolong his days [after dying] ... He shall see of the travail of his soul, and shall be satisfied ...”
